HOUSE INFORMATION

Lengishu is built entirely of sustainable materials. The stones have been excavated from the site itself, sourced when the foundations were laid. The wooden beams and panels are made of teak and gum poles from Kenya, the walls are rammed earth and the floors are stone and wood. This unique family home was built to blend into its surroundings.

The main house is central to the design with a large entrance hall leading to a study and a vaulted sitting and dining room which is warmed by two large fireplaces with glorious views. A covered veranda with a pizza oven allows for outdoor luncheons or evening entertaining. An art room with floor to ceiling windows and inspirational views is nestled below.

The Master bedroom and Room 1 stand away from the main house with a further two family cottages set into the hillside below.

A U-shaped pool, with views to the West, is surrounded by a lunch pavilion, a gym and a games room with a sundowner bar. The pool area has a further indoor dining room facilitated by a smaller, secondary kitchen.

- All rooms and main house look over the valley below, across to Lewa Wildlife Conservancy and deep into the Northern Frontier.
- The pool house, gym and games room overlook Borana Conservancy with uninterrupted sunset views, complete with a changing room and an outdoor shower.
- Lengishu has Wifi connection and the study has a TV.
- There is a full sound system throughout.
- A regulation pétanque pitch is found between the pool and Room One, surrounded by candelabra trees.
- Lengishu is completely run on solar for both electricity and hot water. There is a substantial back up generator used in the cloudier months if necessary.

ACCOMMODATION

Lengishu is reserved for exclusive use, sleeping up to twelve guests in six unique bedrooms with the option of guide or children's accommodation in the art room which has its own bathroom.

The Master bedroom and Room One stand alone, away from the main house with double beds and luxurious bathrooms. The Master Bedroom has its own sitting room and a large walk-in wardrobe.

Two further cottages sleep four in each. Two double or twin bedrooms are separated by private sitting and dining rooms with large fireplaces and verandas.

- Master and Room One have impressive fireplaces within the bedroom.
- The cottages have fireplaces in the sitting and dining room and cosy wood-burning stoves in the bedrooms.

- The cottages both have small kitchens for tea and cold drinks.
- All rooms have ample clothes hanging and storage space.
- All rooms have en-suite bathrooms with walk in showers and free standing, roll top copper baths.
- All cottages have loos with views.
- Each room has an unobstructed view of the valley below, guaranteeing privacy.
- Laundry, house wines, beers and spirits are included.

ACTIVITIES

Game drives, bush walks, sundowner excursions and bush meals are available. Along with "behind the scenes of conservation" activities.
